Psalm 103:8 & 9

'The LORD is compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, abounding in love. He will not always accuse, nor will he harbour his anger forever'.

'Ki tonu a lhowa i te aroha me te atawhai, he puhoi ki te riri, he nui hoki tana mahi tohu. E kore ia e whakatupuehupehu tonu, e kore ano e mauahara aka ake'.

Dear wonderful Bethlehem College Chapman whanau, There are MANY moments when we stand and virtually burst with pride as we watch our young people do life with such passion, perseverance and sheer determination. Our BCC Cross Country event on Friday gave us plenty of cause to celebrate our precious taonga, our young people, and their achievements as individuals, as pairs, as friends, as athletes and as significant members of our community. From the cheery 'Thank you' as one or other passed by me in my marshalling spot, to the unfortunate fall on the gravel and then standing back up, dusting off and running on to friends running side by side spurring each other on and arriving together at the Finish Line.....we had a myriad of opportunities to see 'whanau' and resilience in action.

Our BCC Library

Mrs Czabania is still plugging away entering books into the BC Chapman database at Bethlehem College in Tauranga. We will be getting a team together to label, cover and collate books in the near future. If you think you may be able to assist, please communicate with Mrs Angie Stevenson in the office phone 07 346 1492 or email office.chapman@beth.school.nz

Health and Safety

Mr Tim McJorow BC Health and Safety will visit us again on Monday to assist us in aligning with the BC Health and Safety Policies, Procedures and Processes.

Chorus/Net4 L

After negotiations and many emails between with the various parties concerned, the Net for Learning changeover will happen on the first day of the school holidays Monday 9th July. Because this is such a major switchover this means there will be no internet access for the school for possibly a whole week. Please bear with us if we have technical complications.

Quote of the Week

The basic requirement of healthy parenting in the year 2018 is not difficult on a scale approaching brain surgery. No, it is breathtakingly simple: JUST BE THERE...and give the little guys your undivided attention.

Author-unknown

Be encouraged Parents, you are doing a far better job than you give yourselves credit for!! Every time you hug your kids, tickle them on the carpet, play ball, read a story, giggle with them at the movies, help them make a tree-hut, take them fishing, praise them or pray with them gives them emotional warmth, healthy limits and the knowledge they are wanted and loved. KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK.

Free Computing Course

Are you unsure of what to do when your child asks you for help with their cloud-based homework? Toi-Ohomai are offering a free 12-week computing course which will help improve your basic computer skills and introduce you to cloud computing.

Absence From School - Impact on Academic Achievement

If you take your son/daughter away for a holiday or for family reasons, please be aware we cannot endorse this. We do understand that family events are special occasions, however, your son/daughter will be responsible for catching up and teachers are not expected to alter their programme nor provide material.

What could be better than seeing everyone run the distance, FINISH the course, gain the prize and go back to wait for and cheer others on to do likewise. It is true that there is only ONE Cup for the FIRST place position and yet there was such a sense of satisfaction, contentment and the ability to celebrate others both those with their God-given super-fast legs and those of us who plod the course feeling the pain of every step. Taking more than just ourselves to reach the goal, is definitely the way to go!

Parents, Grandparents, friends and other extended family members you MAKE the day with your spectator enthusiasm and your genuine appreciation of the efforts made by every single runner. We thank you for transporting children to and from Waipa, for taking photos, cheering loudly, running beside children to encourage them, cooking sausages and ensuring our community functioned SO unitedly! It means a GREAT DEAL to us! It is an absolute privilege to serve you and your family, to watch your son/s and daughter/s grow and their character qualities shine brightly.

Whether we run a Cross Country Course, play in a Chess Competition or complete our home learning tasks faithfully, there is preparation for living a life that does more than make a livingit is the perfect ground in which to learn how to live a life that makes a meaningful difference. Our young people can, and are, becoming 'agents of transformational change' as they keep their eyes firmly focused on Jesus Christ, the Author and Perfecter of faith in a world which desperately needs the love of God which they can so beautifully bring! Yes, Bethlehem College Chapman whanau-We LOVE you and assure you that you are simply, THE BEST!

With love always
Hazel

Special thanks to Mrs Anelda Venter and Miss Michelle Wynne who kept coffee pots filled, delicious food available and made our guests truly welcome!
